This form is to be filled up by the Medical Officer in charge of the patient, and is to be returned to the Medical Officer in charge of the Station when the patient is discharged or when the patient is transferred to another Station.

Colonel Jules Brillant places a wreath at the monument erected in memory of his brother in Jean Brillant Park, Montreal, during the summer of 1971

BRILLANT, Jean

V.C. Méharicourt (near Amiens), August 8th-9th, 1918
(Posthumous)

Born Assametquaghan, Quebec, March 15th, 1890

Unit 22nd Battalion, C.E.F.

Died August 10th, 1918

On the first day of operations shortly after the attack had begun, his company left flank was held up by an enemy machine-gun. Lt. Brillant rushed and captured the machine-gun, personally killing two of the enemy crew. Whilst doing this, he was wounded, but refused to leave his command.

Later on the same day, his company was held up by heavy machine-gun fire. He reconnoitred the ground personally, organised a party of two platoons and rushed straight for the machine-gun nest. Here 150 enemy and fifteen machine-guns were captured, Lt. Brillant personally killing five of the enemy, and being wounded a second time. He had this wound dressed immediately, and again refused to leave his company.

Subsequently this gallant officer detected a field gun firing on his men over open sights. He immediately organised and led a "rushing" party towards the gun. After progressing about 600 yards, he was again seriously wounded. In spite of this third wound, he continued to advance for some 200 yards more.

London Gazette, September 27, 1918

"Je suis fini," ... dit le blessé, "prends charge de la compagnie, car je sais que ça ne sera pas long."

Histoire du 22e Bataillon canadien-français

[He then fell unconscious from exhaustion and loss of blood, dying on the following day.]
